JOURNAL

OF THE

IMPERIAL FISHERIES INSTITUTE

Vol. XXVI. No. 1, 2.

December, 1930 — March, 1931

THE IMPERIAL FISHERIES INSTITUTE

Tokyo

CONTENTS OF Vol. XXVI.

Page.

Physiological Studies on the Eel. III. Microscopical Observations of the Blood. (Plate I.) —N. KAWAMOTO 1

A Biometric Study of Sexual Dimorphism in a Teleost, Cololabis saira. (Brevoort). —I. YASUNARI 5

Buccal Incubation in the Percoid Fish, Apogon lineatus T. & S. —K. SAKAMOTO 9

Report on the Biological Survey of the Tateyama Bay. I. Description of a New Wrasse-fish, Cymolutes tateyamaensis, n. sp. —K. SAKAMOTO 11

Two New Species of Fishes from the Japan Sea. —K. SAKAMOTO 15

Occurrance of the Nuptial Organ in the Female of the Salmonoid Fish, Plecoglossus altivelis T. & S. —K. EBINA 21

Life-History of the Water-flea, Moina macrocopa Strauss, Reproducing Parthenogenetically. —A. TERAO & T. TANAKA 25

Beiträge zur Entwickelungsgeschichte von Encoeliaceen. (Taf. II. u. III.) —S. UEDA 29

A few Studies on Determination of Nitrogen. —W. SHIMIZU 35

Studies of Netting Cords. V. The Decrease of the Strength of Cords at the Knot. —M. TAUTI 41

Type of a New Family of Mailed-Cheek Fish from the Japan Sea, Marukawichthys ambulator, n. g. n. sp. —K. SAKAMOTO 53

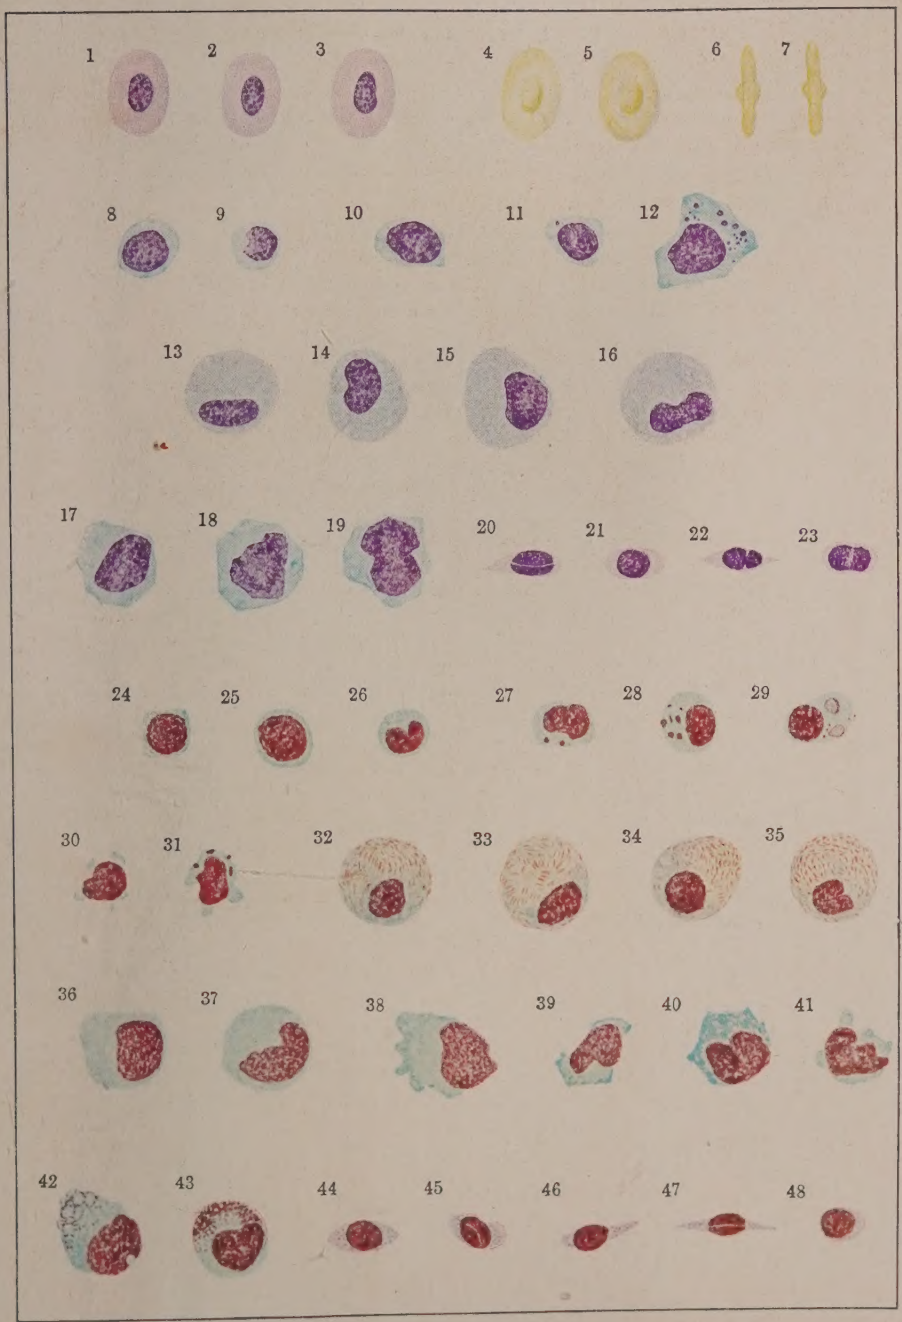
Pearl-sac Formation in the Pearl Oyster, Margaritifera martensii Dunker. —T. TANAKA 57

On the Relation between the Vacuum and Head Space in Canned Foods. —H. WADA 63

Circulation of Air in a Cold-Storage Warehouse. I. Preliminary Experiments on Convection Current in a Rectangular Chamber Cooled above and Heated below. —M. OKADA 69

A physical Method of Testing the Freshness of Raw Fishes. —M. TAUTI, I. HIROSE and H. WADA 79

Plate 1.



Noburyuki Kawamoto. del.